

BILETULNR. 2

Read the text below and answer the questions:

Holly Murphy, 20, Canadian, took a break after her studies to join a Raleigh overseas programme: "I was looking for volunteer work abroad and came across Raleigh International on the internet. I didn't really know what to expect, apart from the fact that it was likely to be hard work. I hoped the programme would give me a better understanding of my strengths and weaknesses and would give me the opportunity to develop my abilities to work in a team as well as to improve my leadership skills. For the first few days I found life in the programme fairly difficult. We had to adjust to the accommodation, Malaysian culture, homesickness, fatigue and various other differences. My highlight was socializing with villagers. They gave me a skirt, made me a necklace and often gave us lunch. On a personal level I feel I have improved my communication skills, and find that I now listen to others more readily before speaking."

Answer the following questions:

1. Why did Holly Murphy decide to go to Malaysia?
2. What were her hopes about the programme?
3. How did the villagers help her?
